

Model Act v3.4 — what is open

27 August 2026. One hundred and twenty two items, complete. Nothing is omitted and nothing is summarized away. The first part is what bears on your work; the rest follows.

How to read this

Every item carries one of five levels, and they escalate. Each level holds everything the one before it holds and lacks one thing more.

1 - Citation — the quotation is read and verified; the page cannot be confirmed, because the copy held carries no reporter pagination. Needs a reporter print or a database. 23 items.

2 - Document — the text is not held at all. Needs a search, not expertise. 43 items.

3 - Reading — everything is held and nobody has read it against the Act. 21 items.

4 - Counsel — read, compared, and the reading does not settle it. 30 items.

5 - Decision — advised on, and still open, because it is not a question about the world. 4 items.

A drafted repair exists for every amendment and for no objection. The column says so per item. Replacement language is written and keyed to an exact splice point; it is not adopted, and nine of the twenty-three have not been validated by anyone. An item with no drafted text is one where even a lawyer would be starting from nothing.

Thirty items are missing counsel and no amount of reading reduces that. Sixty-three letters have gone out; four people replied; none of the four was a review. That is why you are being written to.

A note on the ordering. An item cannot honestly sit at a high level while a low one beneath it is unresolved. A decision resting on an unpinned citation is a decision resting on nothing — which is exactly what one item below records about this project’s own reading of Connecticut law.

I. The question this Act turns on

This statute exists to make a small number of very powerful people personally answerable for deploying systems they had the authority to stop. Not the engineer who ran the evaluation. The person who held the votes.

The Act reaches them. SEC. 4(a)(4) covers ownership, voting, contractual and governance rights conferring practical power to prevent or halt, held “directly or indirectly, individually or in concert with others, and through any intermediary, entity, trust, or arrangement.” SEC. 4(c) makes that non-delegable: appointing a safety officer, a compliance officer, a committee, a subsidiary or a contractor shields nobody who retains the authority. And SEC. 4(a) excludes “professional credentials or technical ability” from what counts as authority, so I am not an engineer and could not have understood the configuration is not a defense. That is Park, deliberately.

And then SEC. 4(b) gives most of it back.

SEC. 4(b)(2) presumes a controlling person is anyone holding rights “sufficient, alone or in concert with others, to direct or replace the management” of a developer. That is written for exactly the person described above. But the subsection continues:

“In any criminal proceeding, such status is evidence from which the trier of fact may infer controlling-person status; the prosecution retains its burden on every element under SEC. 6(d).”

The presumption operates in civil proceedings only. Where the remedy is money, the founder is presumed responsible. Where the remedy is prison, he is not — and he is the party best resourced to document that operational authority sat three levels below him.

That is inverted for a statute built on the premise that a fine is absorbed and a sentence cannot be. The split was drafted on due-process grounds, and it may well be right. But it was written as though the law compelled it, and nobody with the standing to say so has looked at whether it does.

So the first question is this. May a State presume controlling-person status in a criminal proceeding against a person holding the rights described in SEC. 4(b)(2)? If not, on what conditions could an inference be structured that survives — a permissive inference with a rational-connection showing, a burden of production on the defendant on the Park model, something else? If the answer is that it cannot be done at all, then this Act reaches the people it was written for in civil court and not in criminal court, and that should be said on its front page rather than discovered.

II. The other items that bear on your work

These turn on corporate criminal liability, on whether responsibility can supply knowledge, or on whether an offense can be charged against a person inside a firm. The rest follows in Part II.

The offense the Act exists to create, and it cannot be pleaded

SEC. 6(a). Walked as a prosecutor must plead it, three elements are missing. Nothing requires that a violation of SEC. 5 ever occurred — it appears only as the object of the power, never as a fact to be proved. Nothing connects the failure of due care to anything; SEC. 10(c)(2)(D) supplies causation for the harm tier and the base offense has no equivalent. And “the relevant risk” has no antecedent inside SEC. 6 at all: its only antecedent is SEC. 2(a), which does not commence until day 180, while SEC. 6 operates from the effective date.

Expected outcome: demurrer for failure to charge an offense, or a constructed offense that fails on vagueness.

Amendment 8 is the drafted reconstruction — three elements plus a nexus clause, restoring Park’s prima facie theory as an element. It is unvalidated, it was drafted before a later reading of Johnson & Towers, and it is level 4.

Whether responsibility can supply knowledge — the question this project would most like answered

SEC. 6(b)(1) makes knowledge an express element. SEC. 6(d) locates responsibility in the officer’s practical authority. Can the second supply the first?

United States v. MacDonald & Watson Waste Oil Co., 933 F.2d 35, 55 (1st Cir. 1991): “In a crime having knowledge as an express element, a mere showing of official responsibility under Dotterweich and Park is not an acceptable substitute for direct or circumstantial proof of knowledge.”

United States v. Johnson & Towers, 741 F.2d 662 (3d Cir. 1984), read in the opinion, concludes that knowledge “including that of the permit requirement, may be inferred by the jury as to those individuals who hold the requisite responsible positions with the corporate defendant.”

The Act drafts to the first and concedes it in terms — “Responsibility and authority under SEC. 6(d), standing alone, do not establish knowledge.” That concession was written as though the authorities compelled it. They do not. It is a choice, and it has never been defended as one.

Amendment 22 is the drafted repair. It is level 1: blocked on footnote 15 of MacDonald & Watson, which decides whether the First Circuit approved the willful-blindness instruction or merely recited it, and which no copy this project holds can settle.

Delegation — two forms, neither answered

Objection 9, level 4. “She relied on her safety team.” SEC. 8 requires “statements of fact within the certifying person’s knowledge after reasonable inquiry” and never says whether asking a safety team is reasonable inquiry. If it is, SEC. 8 is theater. If it is not, SEC. 8 may be unsignable.

Objection 10, level 4. “The veil is not the obstacle. Delegation is.” SEC. 4(b) makes the chief executive a presumed controlling person — in civil proceedings only. In a criminal proceeding status is merely evidence from which the trier of fact may infer, and the prosecution retains its burden on every element. In the tier that carries prison there is no presumption, against an org chart built by lawyers to defeat exactly that showing.

The doctrine may not bear the felony tier

Objection 15, level 4. Lyness, 64 B.C. L. Rev. 253, 297–98 — the survey this project cites for its comparative claims — would revive the state responsible-officer doctrine for civil liability only, because Dotterweich and Park are misdemeanor authority from a time when the collateral consequences of conviction were different. The base tier answers it. SEC. 6(b) may not, and no argument that the same authority reaches it exists anywhere in this project.

Whether the State can reach the person at all

Objection 14, level 4. Every SEC. 6 offense turns on what a natural person knew or could have prevented, and American courts shield senior executives from deposition absent unique non-duplicative knowledge. One data point cuts the other way — Concord Music Group v. Anthropic, No. 5:24-cv-03811 (N.D. Cal.), 19 Dec 2025, where the chief executive was ordered to sit — but the order has not been retrieved and both sources are secondary.

The Act does not reach the conduct it was written after

Decision 4, level 5. SEC. 2(a) and SEC. 1(c) attach every duty to in-state deployment. Of the six documented 2026 incidents, three Anthropic and one Meta occurred in an evaluator’s environment in Tel Aviv, and one at the UK AI Security Institute. In an adopting state that is not California, five of six fall outside the Act at the threshold. No drafted amendment repairs it, and the question — whether a State may attach duties to conduct abroad on the basis of intended in-state effect — is constitutional.

Adverse authority this project has not read

Buell, The Limits of Individual Prosecutions in Deterring Corporate Fraud, 59 Wake Forest L. Rev. 557, 567 (2024), for the finding that most white-collar prosecutions are brought against midlevel managers. If enforcement lands below the officer tier, an officer-liability statute either goes unused or is used against the wrong people. Not held, and on its title adverse.

III. Everything else

The rest, by level, worst-blocked first — so that nothing is represented by a summary.

5 - Decision missing

Held, read, compared and advised on. What remains is a choice about what this Act should be.

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
DEC-2	Decision	no	2, 9 - Does the duty reach an evaluation run with safeguards deliberately disabled?
DEC-3	Decision	no	4 - Third-party evaluators: does practical authority still run to the officer?
DEC-4	Decision	no	2(a), 1(c) - The Act does not reach the conduct it was written after

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
Q-5	Open question	no	Whether <code>act/bracketed-matter.md</code> should discuss the citizen-suit question

4 - Counsel missing

Read and compared, and the reading does not settle it.

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
AMD-1	Amendment	yes	1 - Sources “serious injury” from 18 U.S.C. § 1365(h)(3)–(4) instead of leaving it undefined — criminal. Relabeled 27 Aug: a wider injury definition widens a custodial offense, and the research being complete does not make that a drafting choice the maintainer can make. Maintainer decides after counsel advises
AMD-2	Amendment	yes	13(c) - Adds a review valve on the suspension order — administrative law
AMD-4	Amendment	yes	9(a) - Recasts two reporting triggers from characterizations into observable events — a prosecutor, on whether the events are provable
AMD-6	Amendment	yes	1(b)(1) - Adds the developer’s own designation as a third route into scope — whether self-designation can be gamed is policy
AMD-8	Amendment	yes	6 - Rebuilds the individual-liability offense — criminal. Unvalidated, drafted before E66
AMD-9	Amendment	yes	10(e) - Imports the access authority the Act omitted — enforcement. Moved 27 Aug: § 374 does not supply the model

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
AMD-10	Amendment	yes	3(c)(3) - Interim controls, so 5(b) is not dormant until year four — criminal. Relabeled 27 Aug: the repair works by writing four technical controls into the statute as offense elements, applied before any agency has ruled. Fair notice
AMD-13	Amendment	yes	1(b)(1)(B) - Says “sever” rather than “extend” — open-source implications are policy
AMD-15	Amendment	yes	3(c)(2) - A disclose-and-fix valve, because the text as written punishes candor — criminal. Relabeled 27 Aug: the 90-day shelter is renewable on a further nonconformity report and the text does not say whether that restarts the clock
AMD-20	Amendment	yes	3 - Conformity to a standard outside this Act credits nothing — too harsh on good-faith compliers?
AMD-21	Amendment	yes	8 - A certification register — facts public, contents protected — trade secret and public records
AMD-23	Amendment	yes	3(c)(4)(B) - Restores the publication the borrowed statutes require, on their redaction terms — regulatory; are the redaction terms workable
AMD-24	Amendment	yes	8 - The lower tier names recklessness; § 6(a) requires only negligence — criminal, on the fair-notice defect
AMD-25	Amendment	yes	10(d) - The FDCA remedies are cited and their protections are not taken — is taking the FDCA protections coherent

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
DEC-2	Decision	no	2, 9 - Does the duty reach an evaluation run with safeguards deliberately disabled? - Open — criminal. Relabeled 27 Aug: whether a configuration decision is a covered act. Maintainer decides after counsel advises
DEC-3	Decision	no	4 - Third-party evaluators: does practical authority still run to the officer? - Open — architecture, not a defect — criminal. Relabeled 27 Aug: whether practical authority reaches a person who commissioned an outside evaluation. Maintainer steer, 27 Aug: an independent evaluator such as AISI is not the concern; a company-commissioned evaluator is. Maintainer decides after counsel advises
DEC-4	Decision	no	2(a), 1(c) - The Act does not reach the conduct it was written after - Open — criminal and constitutional. Relabeled 27 Aug: whether a State may attach duties to conduct abroad on the basis of intended in-state effect. Maintainer owns the aim, not the answer
OBJ-4	Objection	no	Unaddressed; asserted rather than quantified — or an economist — asserted, never quantified
OBJ-5	Objection	no	Unaddressed — legislative policy
OBJ-6	Objection	no	Unaddressed — or an economist
OBJ-7	Objection	no	Unaddressed — criminal theory

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
OBJ-8	Objection	no	The literature is held; nothing anticipates the coalition — criminal policy
OBJ-9	Objection	no	Named as unanswered on the objections page
OBJ-10	Objection	no	Raised from outside; answer incomplete
OBJ-13	Objection	no	Takings. X.AI LLC v. Bonta, No. 2:25-cv-12295 (C.D. Cal.) pleads per se takings and regulatory takings before it reaches speech — compelled training-data disclosure as destruction of a trade secret. This repository returns zero on Takings Clause, regulatory taking, per se taking and Penn Central -constitutional. Lifted from standing watch 27 Aug 2026
OBJ-14	Objection	no	The apex-witness problem. Every SEC. 6 offense turns on what a natural person knew or could have prevented, and American courts shield senior executives from depositions absent unique non-duplicative knowledge. Can the State get that person into a chair? One data point cuts our way — Concord Music Group v. Anthropic , No. 5:24-cv-03811 (N.D. Cal.), 19 Dec 2025, Amodei ordered to sit — Unverified: the order has not been retrieved and both sources are secondary — enforcement. Lifted from the internal review 27 Aug 2026

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
OBJ-15	Objection	no	The doctrine will not bear the felony tier. Lyness, 64 B.C. L. Rev. 253, 297–98, would revive the state RCO doctrine for civil liability only: Dotterweich and Park are misdemeanor authority from a time when collateral consequences were different. The base tier answers it; SEC. 6(b) may not, and no argument that the same authority reaches it exists anywhere here — criminal. The scholar whose survey this project cites for its comparative claims Prior to every legal question on this page, and unaddressed - Neither — an evaluations researcher, not a lawyer Whether 8 Del. C. § 102(b)(7) exculpation reaches a duty imposed by a statute outside the DGCL. “We have found no case deciding it” - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 1097 Whether the Act’s answer to Lyness on remediable and insurable harm holds — “asserted here, not proven” - <code>commentary/other-jurisdictions.md</code> 369
OBJ-3	Objection	no
Q-1	Open question	no
Q-3	Open question	no

3 - Reading missing

Document, quotation and citation are all held. Nobody has read it against the Act.

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
AMD-3	Amendment	yes	regulations - Conforms the draft regulations to the current Act — three changes never cascaded — compare <code>act/rules.md</code> against the Act; three anchors
AMD-5	Amendment	yes	8 - Punctuation only — SEC. 8 has a comma where a period belongs, mid-sentence before “A certification disclosing” — adopt
AMD-SC	Amendment	—	end of file - The statute ends with two stray characters,) (, after “Steal it.” Present in the tagged v3.4 text and in <code>the-act.txt</code> ; absent from the reviewer’s clean copy , so it was introduced or preserved in one and not the other. Found 26 Aug 2026 — delete two characters and re-checksum, or carry to v3.5
AMD-7	Amendment	yes	1 - Extends scope to the covered frontier enterprise — ecosystem scope, functional duty — held pending enforcement and security review
AMD-11	Amendment	yes	5, 9(b) - Names who owes the duty; rewrites it in the active voice — read it; does SEC. 5 now name the obligor
AMD-14	Amendment	yes	9(b) - A detection clock that cannot be gamed by certifying less monitoring — read it; can the clock still be gamed
AMD-26	Amendment	yes	3(c)(4) - Repairs the disapplication list against a full read of the three adopted standards — check the repair against the three standards, already read

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
FACT-10	Fact	no	Resolution; the individual-signature reading stands meanwhile — a disposition
FACT-13	Fact	no	Pin it, or strike the sentence. The incident timeline does not carry it — pin or strike
FACT-14	Fact	no	A re-sweep: did OpenAI and Anthropic answer? Silence is itself the SEC. 9 argument — a re-sweep
PUB-2	Published defect	no	commentary/questions.md 163, 247, 253, 363, 371, 384, 393, 407 - commentary/objections.md 44, 316, 493, 658, 715, 808 - commentary/other-jurisdictions.md 244, 372, 380 - Seventeen passages address reviewers, seats and a council as existing parties — “the enforcement reviewer’s core question, and the reviewer exists because it is”; “identifiable privately to reviewers before they sign”; “any completed expert reviews”. No reviewer exists and no review has been received. objections.md line 10 now says so, and fourteen later passages on the same page contradict it

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
PUB-3	Published defect	no	commentary/objections.md 706, 850 - commentary/the-case.md 501 - Three references to a docs/ directory that no longer exists docs/safe_harbors_and_affirmative_ (now commentary/half-statutes.md), docs/03-whats-in-the-act.md, and a GitHub permalink pinned to commit 6f48eff under the vanished tree
PUB-5	Published defect	no	commentary/already-a-crime.md 34 - commentary/what-frontier-means.md 33, 50, 113, 129 - commentary/half-statutes.md 138 - “CURE 6”, “CURE 7”, “CURE 20” — this file numbers them Amendment n, and three other commentary pages already use that. Two naming schemes for the same rows in one directory
PUB-6	Published defect	no	commentary/objections.md 317, commentary/questions.md 393 - Two links promise something the target is not — “the reviewer page” and “the enforcement reviewer’s” both resolve to this file, which has no per-topic errata and is not a person
PUB-7	Published defect	no	commentary/objections.md 862 - Cites model_act_v3_4.txt; the file is act/model-act.txt
PUB-8	Published defect	no	commentary/the-case.md 466 - Corrupted sentence — “unless that model is itself offered as a Comments.” A bad paste; the sentence about Pennsylvania SB 1090 § 4 does not parse

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
PUB-9	Published defect	no	commentary/other-jurisdictions.md 380 - commentary/the-same-conduct.md 193, 376 - commentary/objections.md 15 - commentary/why-a-signature-works.m 12 - Self-awarded grades , contrary to the no-superlatives rule: “the strongest doctrinal objection in the scholarship this project relies on”; “the most useful one in the file”; “the strongest version of it”; “the strongest form of pre-resistance”; “ This file is the answer ” commentary/half-statutes.md 165 - commentary/objections.md 707 - commentary/questions.md 150, 290, 373, 435 - commentary/the-same-conduct.md 41 - commentary/other-jurisdictions.md 303 - British spelling in project prose — armoured, harbours, trialled, weaponise, criminalising, authorisation, misdemeanours. check_spelling.py does not catch these, which is itself a finding: see the criminalise item in the carried-forward block No public page states that the negligence tier is the operating regime and the felony tier the exception. A reader cannot tell which the Act is - commentary/objections.md 849
PUB-10	Published defect	no
Q-2	Open question	no

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
Q-4	Open question	no	Whether H.R. 9917’s testing carve-out would exclude the studied incidents. Not checked, not asserted - <code>commentary/the-same-conduct.md</code> 285
Q-6	Open question	no	The Lyness four-goal mapping correction, marked “candidate erratum, maintainer to number” — belongs in G - <code>commentary/other-jurisdictions.md</code> 341

2 - Document missing

The text is not held. Nothing can be read or checked until somebody finds it.

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
OBJ-11	Objection	no	Reported, not read. Her work is not in the source library — then readable by the maintainer
OBJ-12	Objection	no	The largest hole. The central analogy is a legal argument wearing an empirical one’s clothes — then readable by the maintainer
FACT-1	Fact	no	A first-party or filing source
FACT-2	Fact	no	A source
FACT-3	Fact	no	A dated source
FACT-4	Fact	no	The S-1 read directly. Currently held through secondary reads — the S-1
FACT-5	Fact	no	The roster reconciled against the seat count
FACT-6	Fact	no	Published? Watch — watch
FACT-7	Fact	no	Any sourced figure
FACT-8	Fact	no	Pins; flagged in the incidents appendix
FACT-9	Fact	no	Both currently rest on an AI summary — first-party or strike — or strike
FACT-11	Fact	no	All three still unpinned
FACT-12	Fact	no	A pin

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
DOC-1	Document	no	Hugging Face’s incident post, 16 July 2026 - One of four primaries behind the 2026 incident cluster
DOC-2	Document	no	OpenAI’s statement on the same incident - Same
DOC-3	Document	no	The Black Hat presentation by two OpenAI staff - Same
DOC-4	Document	no	Anthropic’s disclosure of its own April evaluations - Same. All four are held at reporting strength only
DOC-5	Document	no	The June 2026 executive order founding the federal review framework - Distinct from EO 14365 of 11 Dec 2025. Not held
DOC-6	Document	no	The order in X.AI LLC v. Weiser constraining the Colorado Attorney General - The first judicial constraint on a state AI enforcer in this record
DOC-7	Document	no	Apollo Global Management’s own breach notification - Nothing hardens on the security side until it is read
DOC-8	Document	no	Rep. Trahan’s post of ~22 August 2026, in full - Held as a truncated paste; nothing may cite it beyond the watch
DOC-9	Document	no	Connecticut’s enacted 2026 act — public act number and section numbering - Blocks DEC-1 and FACT-15
DOC-10	Document	no	Concord Music Group v. Anthropic , No. 5:24-cv-03811 (N.D. Cal.), the 19 Dec 2025 deposition order - Public on CourtListener. The only court finding that a frontier chief executive holds unique personal knowledge of model training. Blocks OBJ-14

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
DOC-11	Document	no	Lyness, 64 B.C. L. Rev. 253, in the original - Cited throughout for comparative claims and read only in extract. Blocks OBJ-15
DOC-12	Document	no	Government Functional Standard 007: Security and Managing Public Money — the primary sources for the Accounting Officer duty - <code>commentary/why-a-signature-works.m</code> 223
DOC-13	Document	no	Whether any UK Accounting Officer has been personally sanctioned over cyber risk. The page says if none has, “that is a finding against this section” - <code>commentary/why-a-signature-works.m</code> 226
DOC-14	Document	no	The ASRS immunity design — the aviation objection’s whole empirical premise - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 663, 715
DOC-15	Document	no	Lee’s written answers to Sen. Klobuchar, S. Hrg. 119-202 pp. 87–92 — read only by OCR, and the page says they are owed a proper reading before quotation - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 1313
DOC-16	Document	no	Anthropic, Detecting and Preventing Distillation Attacks , 23 Feb 2026 - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 208
DOC-17	Document	no	The bioRxiv preprint of 16 July 2026 (Ioannidis; 317 unicorn AI firms) - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 419

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
DOC-18	Document	no	CRS, Enforcement of Federal Pollution Control Laws — unread in the original, and Amendment 22 leans on it - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 536
DOC-19	Document	no	Primary texts: TRAIGA, SB 24-205 and its delay amendment, the SANDBOX Act, the Utah AI Policy Act, the TRUMP AMERICA AI Act, the GAAIA draft - <code>commentary/half-statutes.md</code> 62, 249
DOC-20	Document	no	The Copenhagen dispatch, findable in Foreign Relations of the United States - <code>commentary/other-jurisdictions.md</code> 416
DOC-21	Document	no	Gawande, The Checklist Manifesto — pincites unpinned, and the page says they must be pinned before publication - <code>commentary/why-a-signature-works.m</code> 323
DOC-22	Document	no	Senate statements unread: fourteen senators and Kratsios’s prepared statement (S. Hrg. 119-284), the Commerce hearing of 3 Mar 2026, Muro’s Brookings statement. Blackburn and Cantwell bear on preemption - <code>commentary/objections.md</code> 1408, 1479
AMD-12	Amendment	yes	5(d) - Restores the mental state the borrowed provision requires - Alvarez is not held. Once it is, level 4 — criminal
AMD-16	Amendment	yes	1(b)(7) - A deception limb, because Van Buren excludes what actually happened - Van Buren is not held. Once it is, level 4 — CFAA

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
DEC-1	Decision	no	3(c)(4) - Does Connecticut become a fourth adopted standard? - Parked until the act is read in full - The enacted act is not held. Once it is, level 3
OBJ-1	Objection	no	Neither case is held or cited. This is the constitutional objection that most often kills a bill in committee - Neither Lambert nor Johnson is held. Once they are, level 4
OBJ-2	Objection	no	Not held, not cited - Bernstein is not held. Once it is, level 4
FACT-15	Fact	no	A published page cites a bill that never became law. commentary/half-statutes.md argues Connecticut inverts the anti-inoculation pattern and cites section numbers taken from 2025 SB 2, which died in chamber — tabled 16 May 2025, never voted, confirmed against the General Assembly’s own bill history. A successor was enacted in 2026 and is not held. Nothing there may be called Connecticut law until the enacted act is read - The enacted act is not held. Once it is, level 3. Flagged 24 Aug 2026 on standing watch, never entered here

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
PUB-1	Published defect	no	commentary/half-statutes.md 128–135 - Asserts Connecticut P.A. 26-15 “read in full” with pincites § 33(e) and § 13(b)(1). FACT-15 and DOC-9 record that the enacted act is not held and the section numbers came from 2025 SB 2, which died in chamber. The register has already ruled this impermissible and it is still published. Also hedges the bill’s death as “inferred” where this file has it confirmed against the General Assembly’s own history
PUB-4	Published defect	no	commentary/objections.md 236 vs commentary/half-statutes.md 116 - Two different numbers for the same executive order — E.O. 14409 on one page, EO 14365 of 11 Dec 2025 on the other. DOC-5 records the founding order as not held

1 - Citation missing

The quotation is held and read. The page cannot be confirmed from any copy this project has.

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
—	Citation	United States v. MacDonald & Watson Waste Oil Co. , 933 F.2d 35 (1st Cir. 1991) - Footnote 15, read in a reporter print. Amendment 22 depends on whether the court approved the willful-blindness instruction or merely recited it
—	Citation	United States v. Johnson & Towers , 741 F.2d 662 (3d Cir. 1984) - 669

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
—	Citation	United States v. Bank of New England , 821 F.2d 844 (1st Cir. 1987) - 856
—	Citation	United States v. Jewell , 532 F.2d 697 (9th Cir. 1976) (en banc) - 704
—	Citation	United States v. Cincotta , 689 F.2d 238 (1st Cir. 1982) - 243 (note 2 is confirmed)
—	Citation	United States v. Iverson , 162 F.3d 1015 (9th Cir. 1998) - 1024, 1026
—	Citation	United States v. Ahmad , 101 F.3d 386 (5th Cir. 1996) - any
—	Citation	United States v. Philip Morris USA , 566 F.3d 1095 (D.C. Cir. 2009) - any
—	Citation	Veeck v. Southern Building Code Congress , 293 F.3d 791 (5th Cir. 2002) (en banc) - any
—	Citation	Cedar Point Nursery v. Hassid , 594 U.S. 139 (2021) - 150
—	Citation	Liu v. SEC , 591 U.S. 71 (2020) - any
—	Citation	National Pork Producers v. Ross , 598 U.S. 356 (2023) - any
—	Citation	Sveen v. Melin , 584 U.S. 811 (2018) - any beyond 811
—	Citation	Trump v. Slaughter , No. 25-332 (2026) - any
—	Citation	SEC v. Jensen , 835 F.3d 1100 (9th Cir. 2016) - any
—	Citation	Lambert v. California , 355 U.S. 225 (1957) - any
—	Citation	Johnson v. United States , 576 U.S. 591 (2015) - any
—	Citation	United States v. Freed , 401 U.S. 601 (1971) - any
—	Citation	Bernstein v. U.S. Dep't of Justice , 176 F.3d 1132 (9th Cir. 1999) - any
—	Citation	Soto v. Bushmaster Firearms , 331 Conn. 53 (2019) - any

ID	Kind	Drafted text	Item
—	Citation	Ontario Provincial Council of Carpenters v. Walton, C.A. 2021-0827-JTL (Del. Ch. 2023) - Which of two opinions is reported at 294 A.3d 65 — the laches opinion of 12 April or the demand-futility opinion of 26 April. One look at the Atlantic Reporter settles it
ERR-1	Erratum	no	xAI LLC v. Bonta, No. 26-1591 (9th Cir.) — the argument date of 16 July 2026 - The Ninth Circuit docket was read 25 Aug 2026 and carries no entry for argument, submission or opinion; the snapshot ends 15 May 2026. An amicus filed 22 July into “briefing ongoing” is hard to reconcile with argument on 16 July. The current wording is correct and must not be strengthened. Confirming it needs PACER.
AMD-22	Amendment	yes	6(b) - The felony tier’s knowledge element, and one word that is not American English - Blocked on MacDonald & Watson n.15, which needs a reporter print. Once read, level 4